

CASE STUDY:

Bramhall, Cheshire

Door and window specialists, Bayfield Windows, has supplied and fitted a set of Weru bi-folding doors as part of a major extension project of a 1920s house in Bramhall, Cheshire.

With an opening of nearly 4 metres wide and over 2 metres high, these stylish aluminium doors, finished in anthracite grey (RAL 7016) to co-ordinate with the modern interior decor, allow the beautiful garden to become part of the extended kitchen/lounge area. "They're great. You really feel like you're sitting in the garden all the time. All our friends marvel at them," commented the homeowner.

Manufactured in Germany, Weru bi-folding doors offer the latest in technology as well as a premium look that makes a statement in any home. Designed with doors that move smoothly and quietly, the homeowner added, "We're thrilled to bits with how the doors glide effortlessly across from one side to the other."

Functional as well as attractive, the bi-folding doors are thermally insulated to keep the heat in and cold out. Fitted with double-glazed units with toughened soft coat Low-E glass, which are argon gas filled as standard, the picturesque view on the outside can be enjoyed from the comfort and warmth of the inside in all seasons.

Furthermore, to ensure complete peace of mind, the Weru system has a multi-point locking system and encapsulated running gear to prevent the doors being lifted from the track to provide protection against possible intruders.

Safe in the knowledge that the doors chosen were of a high performance specification, the homeowners also opted for the installation service offered by Bayfield to remove risk and save time. "The fitters were very quick and helpful - the job only took half a day to complete. As the doors were too big to go through the house, they had to move the shed to manoeuvre them down the side of the house! They didn't cause any disruption and the shed was returned to its original place before they left. I'd definitely recommend Bayfield to my friends."

The extension was built by Jon Courtney of Courtney Builders, Cheadle Hulme (www.courtneybuilders.co.uk / tel: 07747 608387 / 0161 485 3456), who transformed the rear of the house to achieve an amazing area perfect for social gatherings or relaxing in after dinner.
